KNOW-HOW

Harvest : Harvest is made by hand during 4 days. Grapes are harvested and put in boxes, then protected in a temperate room before vatting. Any berry where rot is present will be rejected, so as to only work with healthy grapes.

Wine making : After destemming, berries are put into stainless steel vats. Fermentation lasts 10 days around, and is controlled thanks to a water belt, enabling to regulate each vat's temperature. Treading is made by hand once a day. After fermentation, wine is hosted in barrels for a year, before bottling.
